YOUTH DEVELOPMENT & MENTORING ORGANIZATIONS

Mentoring programs build relationships that can change young lives, but participation counts and occasional surveys rarely tell the full story. Assessdo helps organizations understand youth experiences between meetings, support mentor follow-through, and learn which needs and strengths are emerging across programs.

THE THREE CHALLENGES WE HELP ADDRESS

Limited youth voice	Youth may not share confidence, motivation, belonging, barriers, or personal goals during scheduled meetings or annual surveys.
Inconsistent follow-up	Mentors and program teams may struggle to recognize changes between sessions, track commitments, or know when additional support is appropriate.
Hard-to-show impact	Attendance, match counts, and hours served do not fully capture relationship quality, personal growth, or why a youth is progressing or disengaging.

HOW ASSESSDO HELPS

Assessdo creates a simple connection between meaningful youth engagement, validated qualitative insights, and program-level action, alongside the mentoring relationships already in place.

- ENGAGE Trusted adults share brief, relevant video check-ins; youth respond by text, voice, or video based on program configuration and permissions.
- CONNECT Combine authorized youth feedback with mentor observations and relevant attendance, participation, or goal-progress information.
- UNDERSTAND Identify recurring themes and changes over time; authorized staff review and confirm or clarify AI-suggested interpretations.
- ACT Use appropriately shared insights to inform mentor coaching, follow-up conversations, referrals, and improvements to program delivery.

WHAT YOUR ORGANIZATION CAN WORK TOWARD

Stronger engagement Offer regular, youth-friendly opportunities to express needs, wins, concerns, and aspirations between program activities.

Earlier supportive action Spot shifts in participation, belonging, or confidence that warrant thoughtful staff follow-up—not automated judgments.

Better mentor support Equip coordinators with validated themes to guide mentor training, supervision, and consistent follow-through.

More credible impact evidence Track engagement, relationship experience, youth-reported growth, goal progress, and program trends for learning and funder reporting.

THE ASSESSDO DIFFERENCE

Traditional mentoring platforms often track matches, meetings, and completed activities. Assessdo adds an ongoing, human-centered understanding of what young people are experiencing and how relationships and supports may be influencing their development.

A FOCUSED 60–90 DAY PILOT

Select one mentoring site or cohort. Define baseline engagement and growth measures; train trusted adults to deliver brief check-ins; collect approved observations; review validated patterns on a regular cadence; and document responsive mentor or program actions.

Suggested pilot measures: youth check-in participation, mentor follow-up completion, youth-reported trust and belonging, goal progress, match engagement, and staff usefulness ratings. Review results before deciding whether to expand.

STRONGER CONNECTIONS. DEEPER UNDERSTANDING. GREATER OPPORTUNITY.
